

THIS WEEK IN THE BIBLE

The prophet Hosea faces a challenge unique among all the Old Testament prophets: an unfaithful wife. But God uses even this painful infidelity for good, as Hosea's difficulties beautifully exemplify God's loving attempts to draw the spiritually promiscuous Israelites back to himself. In the New Testament, John writes three letters, all of them to different people, but a common thread running through all three is John's insistence that Christians love each other and stand for God's truth.

In the Old Testament, a series of prophets record galvanizing visions of God's holy anger, justice, and mercy. Some, such as Jonah, even witness God's awe-inspiring miracles firsthand. And the visions don't end there. In the New Testament, the book of Revelation begins with John's mysterious, fascinating descriptions of the things that he's been shown: world events, heaven, and the glorious throne of God.

In the Old Testament, each prophet hails from different periods of Israel's history and has a unique area of focus, but they are united in their cries for one thing: that God's people would repent and return to his loving embrace. In the book of Revelation, John relates a flood of amazing visions of the end of days. These chapters describe terrors and beasts, but John never loses sight of God's power over even these fearsome things.

In the book of Revelation, the final battle between heaven and hell unfolds, in which God defeats Satan and all his evil. And in the Old Testament, the prophet Zechariah speaks of a similar victory: the coming of a King to Jerusalem and the joyful salvation and restoration of God's people. God will conquer his enemies and reign gloriously over all of Creation.

The ONE YEAR BIBLE

LA BIBLIA EN UN AÑO

Congratulations on reaching the end of the year and reading through the whole Bible! As you finish these readings—in which Jesus Christ’s coming is joyfully anticipated—think about all you have read and experienced over the past year. You have seen the grand story God is telling with all of Creation, including you. As you look toward the next year, ask yourself how you might participate in that story.
